Charities & Planned Giving

We advise our clients on planned giving, including the establishment of charitable organizations and public and private foundations. As long-time legal advisors to numerous local and national charities, we have expertise in:

- establishing and incorporating charitable trusts and corporations, both provincially and federally, whether as private family foundations or public institutions
- advising on planned giving on behalf of both institutions and clients who have made significant donations to charitable and educational institutions in Canada and throughout the world
- making submissions to governmental authorities on behalf of charities
- representing clients who designate cultural gifts to the Canadian Cultural Property Export Review Board
- advising on major gifts of art
